

1). What would be the first thought when you see a conflict:

- A) I will remain silent because my opinion will never be heard (public speech)
- B) I'll let someone else to figure everything out (leadership)
- C) I'll think "why this world is so imperfect, I'm struggling because of all these troubles?" (motivation)

2). You have a goal, but you have a hard time achieving it. What would be the hardest thing for you to do?

- A) To post on instagram pages about my daily success (self-branding)
- B) Indicate the time when I complete the next step (productivity)
- C) delegate specific tasks to help to achieve my goal (team work)

3). What are you most likely to do when you are angry?

- A) I will never do what made me angry again (motivation)
- B) I will spend several hours outdoors (productivity)
- C) I will find who is guilty for what makes me angry (team work)

4). Are you firmly convinced of your point of view, if yes then how will you prove it?

- A) I'll try, if it works - good, if not - won't try again. (motivation)
- B) I will express my dissatisfaction to everyone (team work)
- C) I will wait until someone guess's my opinion (leadership)

5). What are your actions, if this was a day of your dream?

- A) I'll stay at home watching my favourite movie all day (self branding)
- B) I'll go to bed and put off all my work for tomorrow (productivity)
- C) I will enjoy everything around listening to music in my headphones (public speech)